THE LOCKED GIFT STRATEGY

HOW WE'RE GETTING CEOs OF $20M-$80M COMPANIES TO CALL US... FOR JUST $40 BUCKS...

...USING "LOCKED GIFTS"!

YOUR DREAM 100

LG · DESK NOT SCREEN

Yo yo!! Dan here :-)

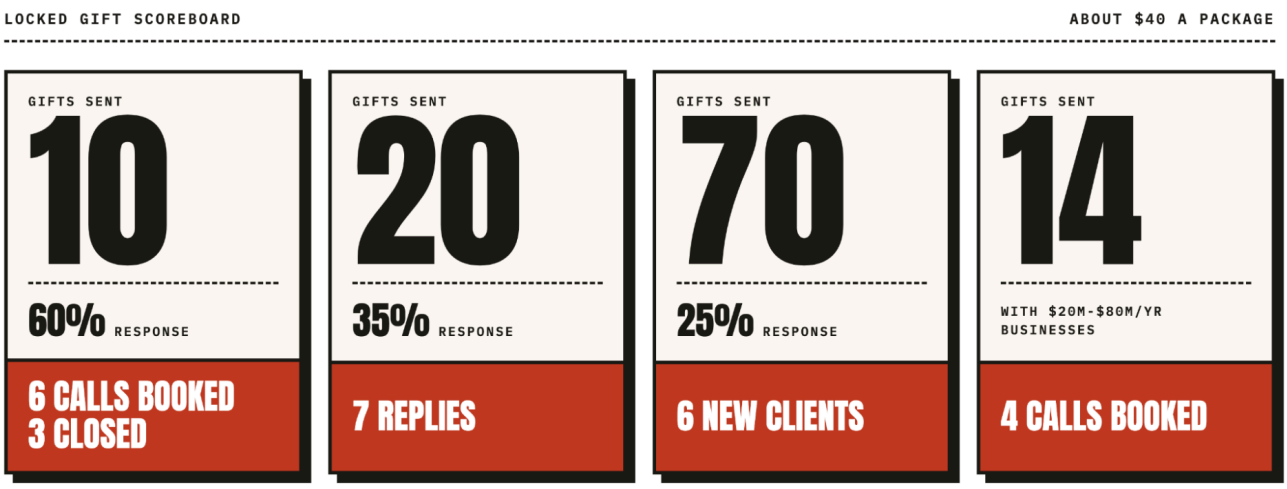

While most peeps are firing off hundreds of cold emails and DMs into the void... getting absolutely NOTHING back...

WE'RE GETTING MORE CLIENTS THAN MOST GET REPLIES.

Not from some fancy ad funnel.

Not from spamming AI-generated messages all day.

But from physical packages that cost about $40 each.

Now here's the thing...

Everyone assumes the gift itself is the clever bit.

It's not.

The locked gift gets their ATTENTION, sure.

But what actually gets a CEO running a $20M - 80M company to pick up the phone and call YOU like it was THEIR idea...

There's a LOT more that goes into it.

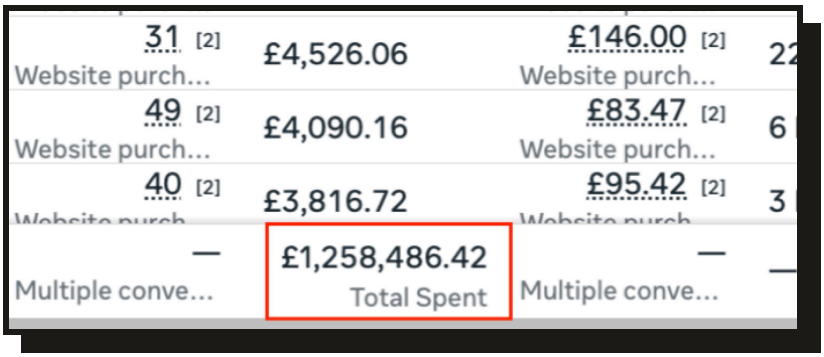

I'll break it all down in a minute.

But first... let me tell you why I'm worth listening to.

My name's Dan Wardrope.

I've spent 7 figures + on advertising directly to business owners over the last couple of years.

And actively coaching 1288+ students on how to get in front of B2B businesses.

Here's one ad account we're running.

I've tried pretty much everything to generate leads.

- ☑ Facebook ads.
- ☑ Google ads.
- ☑ Twitter Ads.
- ☑ Instagram DMs with and without AI
- ☑ Community (ie have multiple skool groups and FB groups)
- ☑ AI Agents selling in "any niche" (yes I built multiple!)
- ☑ Cold email (manual)
- ☑ Cold email (automated)
- ☑ LinkedIn DMs (manual)
- ☑ LinkedIn DMs (automated)
- ☑ Webinars (manual)
- ☑ Webinars (automated)
- ☑ Cold outreach (manual)
- ☑ Cold outreach (automated)

You name it. I've done it.

Here's the thing...

THEY ALL WORKED!

But there's a small problem...

EVERYONE'S FIGHTING FOR THE SAME 6 INCHES OF SCREEN

Let me give you a real example.

One of my best mates is Dr Moradi - Ziggy to me.

He's a plastic surgeon in Sydney.

Which also means he's basically a catnip for marketers.

Think about it.

He's rich.

In a valuable niche...

Selling a high-ticket service...

Which means every man and his dog wants to sell him something.

His inbox?

Forget Inbox Zero.

INBOX ARMAGEDDON.

Every day someone is emailing him.

Sliding into his LinkedIn DMs.

Cold calling him.

Retargeting him.

Shooting over another "personalised" AI message telling him how much they loved his latest post.

And someone is probably asking him to download another bloody PDF :-)

My mate Ziggy: Plastic surgeon. Professional deleter of cold outreach.

And now AI has made this problem 100x worse.

Because suddenly EVERYONE can MASS blast emails and DMs at higher and higher rates.

The funny thing is...

These AI messages are supposed to look clever.

They're SUPPOSED to look personal.

But I can spot them a mile away.

So can Ziggy.

Archive... Archive... Archive.

More bloody NOISE.

And what do most marketers do when this stops working as well as it used to?

They do MORE of it!!

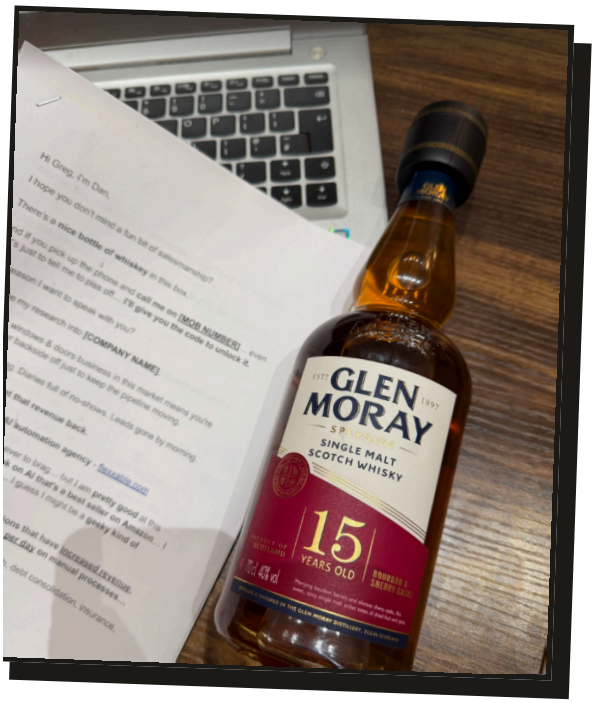

(I blame Hormozi lol)

SO...

We flipped the script entirely.

We stopped trying to get onto their SCREEN...

...and started trying to get onto their DESK.

And that's when things took off.

HERE'S HOW IT ALL STARTED:

A few months ago, a "lumpy mail" package arrived for me.

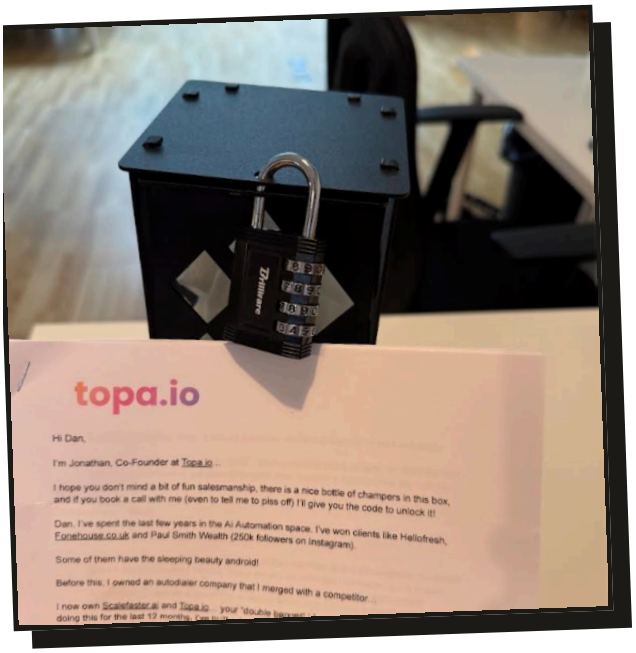

Inside was a nice bottle of champagne.

Which is always a good start :-)

There was just one problem.

I couldn't crack the bubbly open!!

The bottle was locked away inside a cage.

There was also a personalized letter addressed to me.

Everyone in the office was buzzing.

Who had sent it?

Why was it locked?

And most importantly...

HOW THE HELL DO WE OPEN IT?

So I read the letter.

It was from a British dude called Jonathan Matthews.

Jonathan wanted to get my attention.

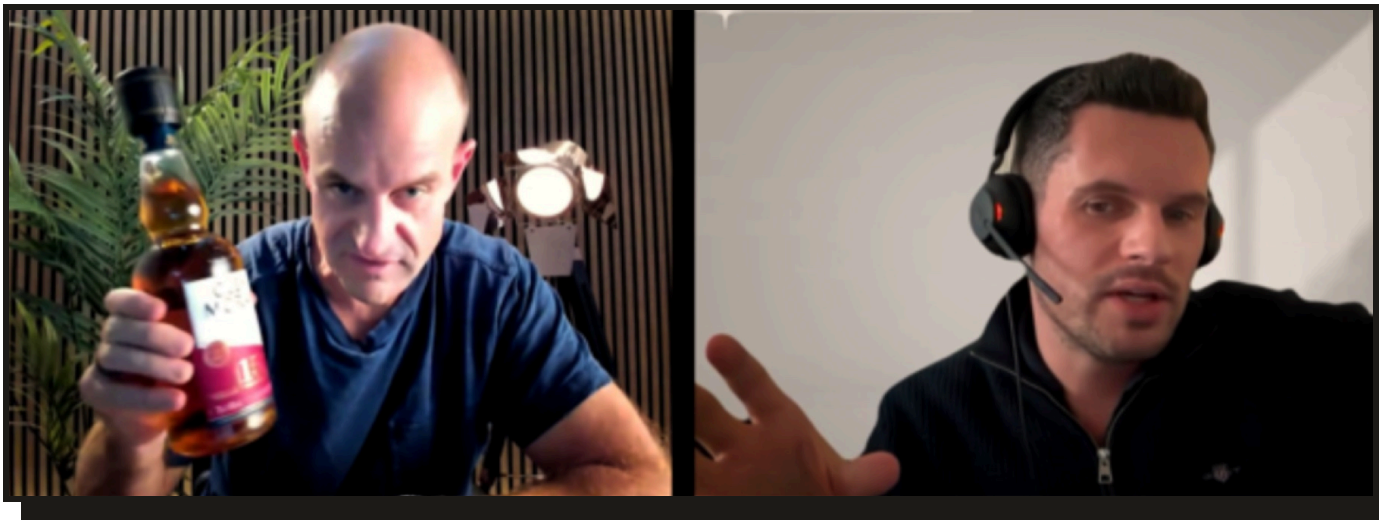

And there was something I needed to do to unlock the bottle.

Call him.

Guess what I did within about 3 mins?

I picked up the phone and dialled the number on the letter.

Mission accomplished :-)

"The bugger got me."

Jonathan and I have since done quite a bit of biz together.

Here's the thing...

I couldn't stop thinking about that bloody bottle.

Because Jonathan had managed to do something that marketers spend BILLIONS trying to do every year.

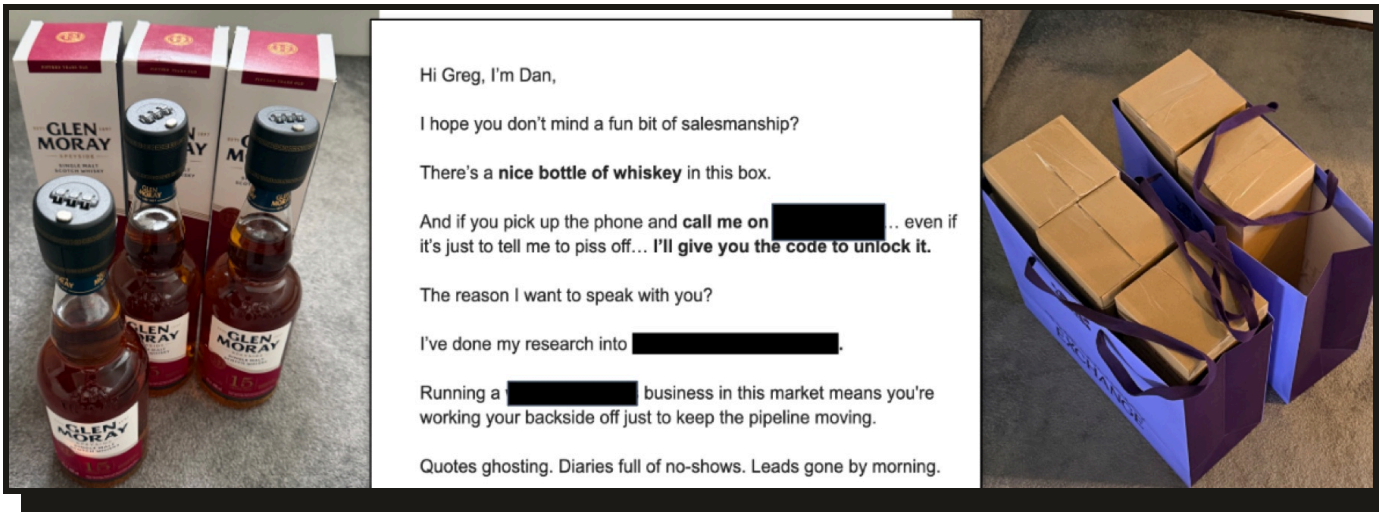

He got the attention of the person he wanted to do business with.

Me.

So I started wondering...

"What happens if I send some bottles & try to land some clients for my own agency?"

SO WE TESTED IT

Now...

At around the same time all this was happening, my brother had launched a business in the indoor adventure park space (it's called www.truninja.com.au - go visit and say "Hi" if you live in Australia)

I'd invested in it too.

And through my agency, we'd been helping him scale to 3 locations inside 12 months.

Which got me thinking...

"Hang on a minute."

If we can do this for my bro...

Why don't we go and speak to a load of OTHER adventure parks?

There was just one slight problem.

We needed to actually GET THEIR ATTENTION FIRST.

And I didn't particularly fancy firing off 5,000 cold emails...

Or getting someone on my team to spend their life "sliding" into LinkedIn DMs...

Or paying Zuckerberg a small fortune and hoping the right adventure park owner happened to see one of our ads.

Then I remembered how Jonathan's "Locked Gift" method managed to get ME to call HIM!!

And I thought...

"WHY DON'T WE JUST DO THAT?"

So we built a list of indoor adventure parks in the UK we absolutely must have as clients.

Not 1,000 random leads.

Not spray-and-pray.

We built a list of 100 Adventure parks WITH MONEY... we'd luuuuv to work with.

Then we found the decision makers...

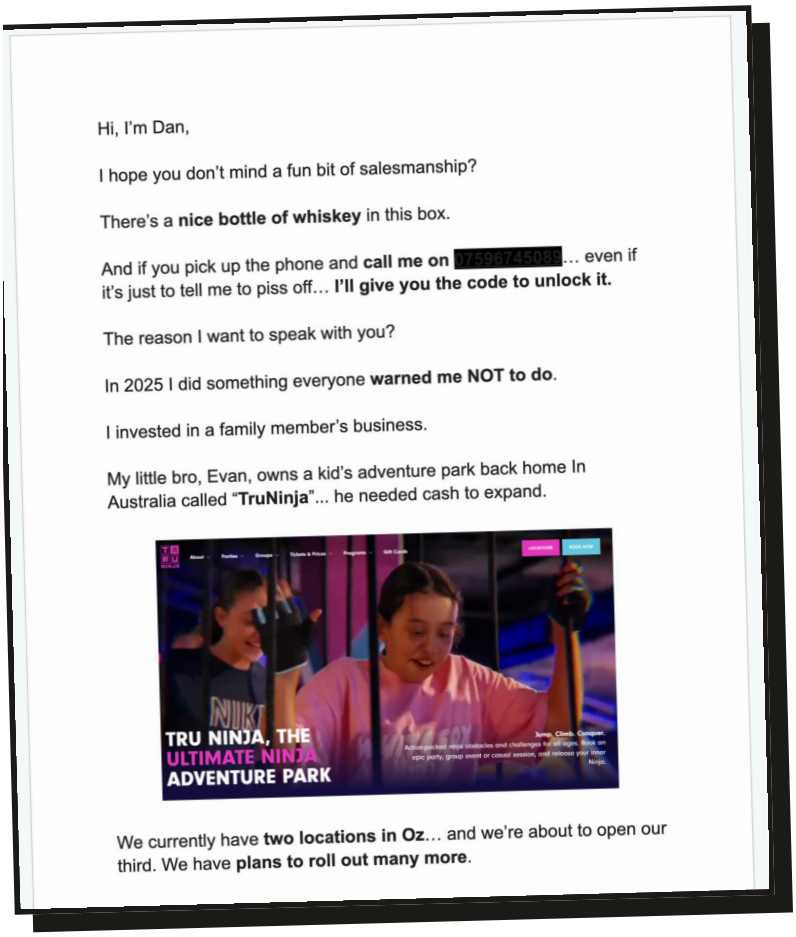

And started sending locked gifts, which we hoped would end up on their desk.

But here's the important bit...

We didn't just send the gift and expect them to magically call us begging to come on as a client!

Every locked gift went out with this:

THE "HOW TO UNLOCK" LETTER.

Hi, I'm Dan,

I hope you don't mind a fun bit of salesmanship?

There's a nice bottle of whiskey in this box.

And if you pick up the phone and call me on [redacted]... even if it's just to tell me to piss off... I'll give you the code to unlock it.

The reason I want to speak with you?

In 2025 I did something everyone warned me NOT to do.

I invested in a family member's business.

My little bro, Evan, owns a kid's adventure park back home In Australia called "TruNinja"... he needed cash to expand.

We currently have two locations in Oz... and we're about to open our third. We have plans to roll out many more.

The letter explains...

Why we'd specifically chosen THEIR business.

What we thought we KNEW we could help them with.

And most importantly...

WHAT THEY NEEDED TO DO NEXT.

So now imagine being on the receiving end.

You're the owner of an indoor adventure park.

You've already deleted 27 cold emails today.

You've ignored another 14 LinkedIn messages.

Then the postman knocks on your door, and hands you a lumpy package.

There's a nice bottle of something inside.

You can SEE it.

You WANT it.

But...

YOU CAN'T OPEN IT.

There's a letter with your name on it.

And to find out what the hell is going on - and unlock your gift - you need to call the number at the top of the letter.

It's almost the complete OPPOSITE of what everyone else is doing.

Normally...

YOU are chasing THEM.

With this...

THEY START CALLING YOU.

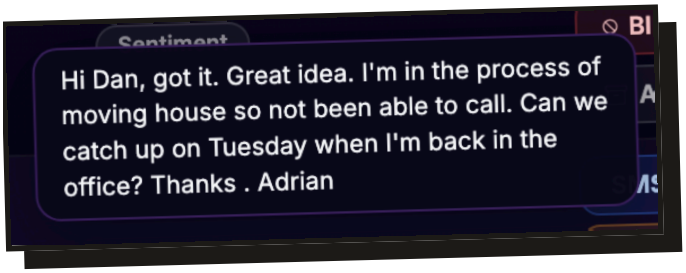

And that's exactly what started happening.

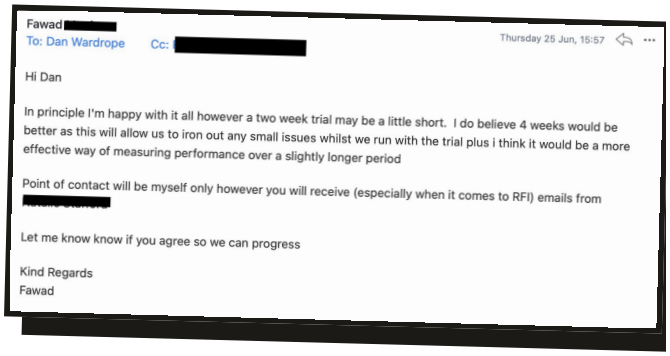

OUR FIRST 10 SENDS WENT LIKE THIS:

TRACKING REPORT · OUR FIRST 10 SENDS
INDOOR ADVENTURE PARKS · UK

10 SENT.
6 CALLS BOOKED.
3 CLIENTS CLOSED.

CLIENT	CLIENT	CLIENT	CALL BOOKED	CALL BOOKED
CALL BOOKED	SENT	SENT	SENT	SENT

Read that again.

We didn't send 1,000 emails or need 500 replies.

We sent TEN physical packages to businesses we actually wanted to work with.

Six turned into conversations. And three turned into sales.

That's when I started thinking...

“Holy shit. We might actually be onto something here.”

So we kept going.

And across our first 70 opportunities...

WE CLOSED AND ONBOARDED 6 CLIENTS.

That's an 8.6% package-to-close rate.

I knew I was onto something so I showed this to a buddy of mine in America.

Mateusz R decided to send a few bottles.

He picked the home improvement niche, selling AI Automation.

He sent...

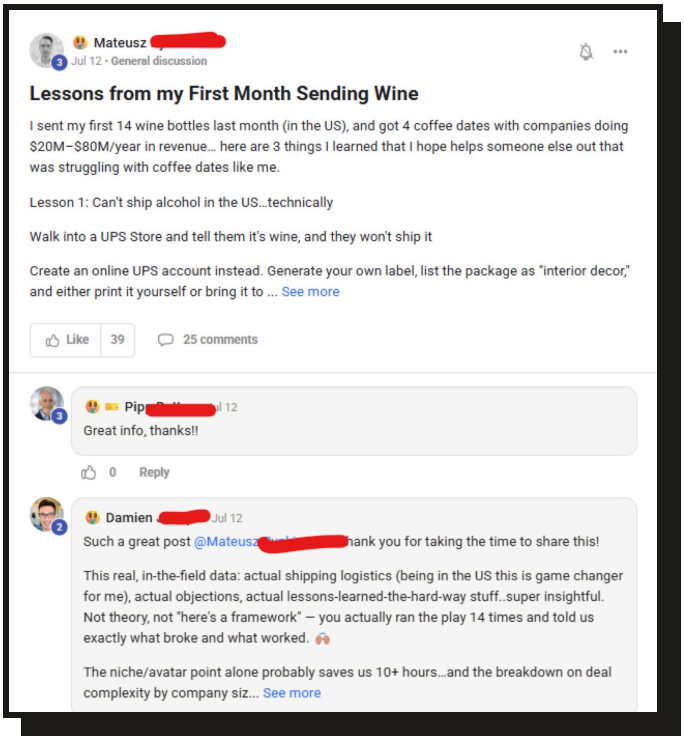

14 BOTTLES.

And booked...

4 COFFEE DATES.

(You probably call these “Sales Calls”)

...with $20M-80M/Yr businesses!

Mateusz summed the whole thing up better than I probably could.

After running the experiment, he basically said...

He didn't know another cold outreach method that could get the CEO of an $80M-a-year company to call HIM... and it cost him $40!

And that really sums up why I think this works.

It's not because there's something magical about a bottle of wine.

Or because business owners have a strange obsession with combination locks :-)

It's because we've managed to:

GET THEIR ATTENTION.

Instead of YOU desperately trying to get THEIR attention...

THEY'RE NOW CURIOUS ABOUT YOU.

And THAT is the real idea behind...

Simple.

But very, very different from what almost everyone else is doing.

And there's one other thing I want to make REALLY clear before we get into exactly how you can do this yourself...

THE BOTTLE ISN'T THE STRATEGY.

The bottle is simply one way of getting someone's attention.

Which brings me to the question I get all the time...

"BUT DAN... I CAN'T SEND BOOZE!"

I know :-)

Especially if you're in the US, where sending alcohol can be a pain in the ass.

But here's the good news...

YOU DON'T NEED TO SEND ALCOHOL.

Because it was NEVER really about the booze.

It was about putting something on somebody's desk that was:

Desirable.

Different.

Physical.

And difficult to ignore.

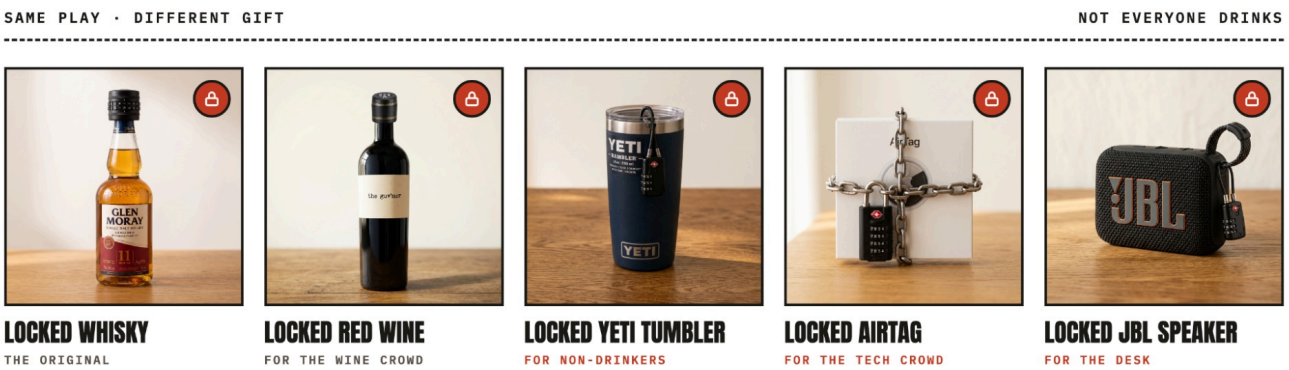

We're now testing all sorts of other gifts.

For example...

YETI tumblers.

AirTags and JBL speakers.

Premium products people actually WANT.

In fact...

Some of these options may turn out to work BETTER than alcohol.

Because not everyone drinks.

Pretty much everyone likes getting cool stuff :-)

→ THE GIFT GETS ATTENTION.

→ THE LOCK CREATES CURIOSITY.

→ THE LETTER CREATES THE CONVERSATION.

That's the strategy.

"OKAY DAN... BUT ISN'T THIS EXPENSIVE?"

Yep.

Compared with sending an email? Absolutely.

But that's the wrong question. The RIGHT question is...

EXPENSIVE COMPARED TO WHAT?

Let's say your entire package costs around $40.

Gift... Packaging.. Postage... Everything.

Send 10 and you're roughly $400 in.

Now...

$400 is quite expensive if your objective is to acquire 10 nice mugs :-)

But what if you're trying to get a meeting with the owner of a business worth $20M? $40M? $80M?

And what if ONE of those businesses could become a client worth...

$5,000 a month... $10,000 a month... or MORE.

Suddenly $40 doesn't sound quite so scary.

And there's ONE more reason I actually LIKE the fact this costs money.

THERE'S A BARRIER TO ENTRY!

Anyone can send an email or a DM with ZERO effort.

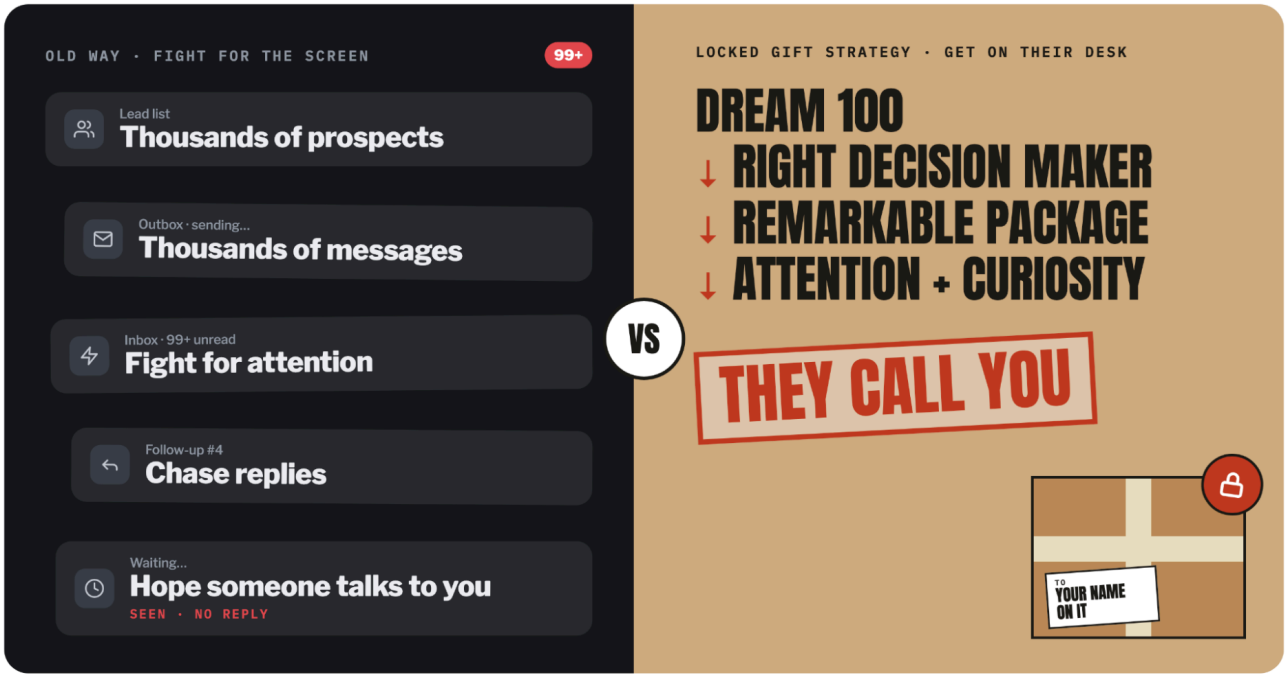

But when someone receives a physical package...

They can SEE you've invested some thought, effort and money into getting their attention.

It feels different. Because it IS different.

If your dream client could be worth $20,000, $50,000 or $100,000+ to your business over their lifetime...

What's it worth just to get them to have a proper conversation with you? That's the maths I'd be looking at.

SO... HOW DO YOU ACTUALLY DO THIS?

Here's the plan:

STEP 01 PICK YOUR NICHE.

Don't start with...

"Every business owner in America."

Pick ONE market.

HVAC... Dentists... Roofers... Accountants... Manufacturers.

Whatever makes sense for what you sell.

GET SPECIFIC.

It makes everything easier. (We call these "Subniches")

Your list gets better.

Your letter gets better.

Your offer gets better.

Your conversations get better.

STEP 02 BUILD YOUR DREAM 100.

Now find 100 businesses in that market you'd genuinely LOVE as clients.

Don't just grab the first 100 businesses Google spits out.

Look for businesses that actually have the ability to BUY what you sell.

Then find the PERSON inside each business who can actually say...

"YES."

Owner, Founder, CEO, Managing Director, Head of Sales, Head of Marketing.

Whoever makes sense for your offer.

Because there's no point spending $40 getting the attention of someone who can't buy from you.

STEP 03

GET THE DATA.

This bit used to be a pain.

Finding the company was easy.

Finding the right person...

Along with their mobile, email, LinkedIn and physical address to reach them...

Not so much.

But thankfully, AI and modern data tools have completely changed that.

And I've got a little present for you here too :-)

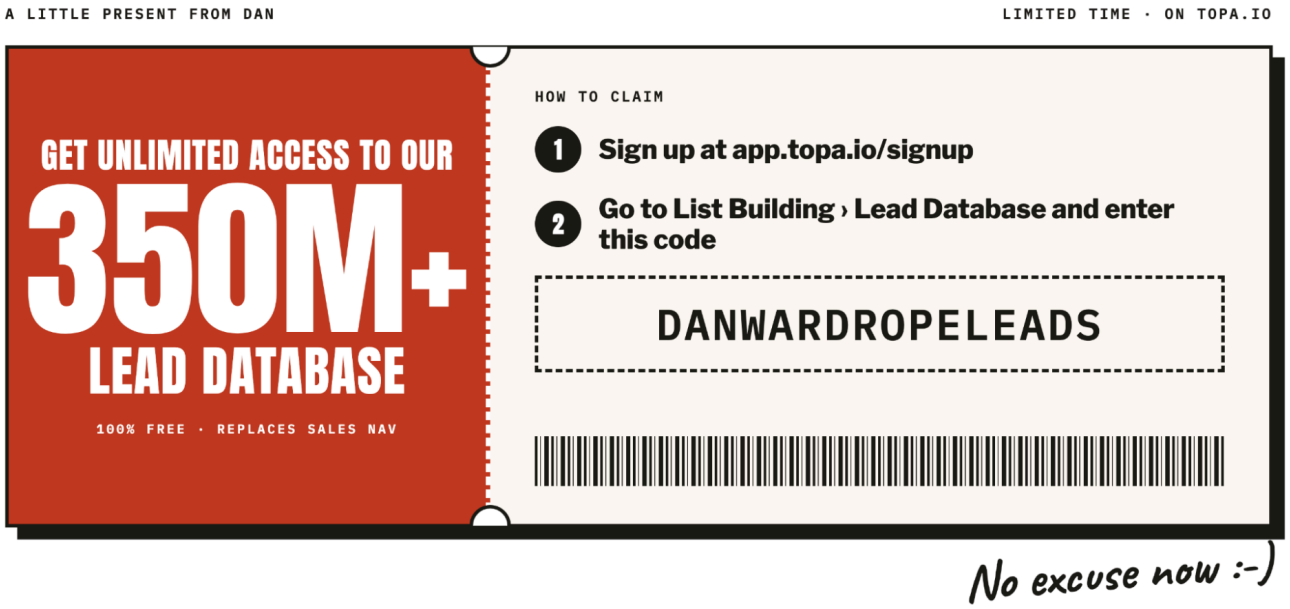

I'LL GIVE YOU ACCESS TO OUR LEAD DATABASE FOR FREE

This isn't 100 dodgy leads in a spreadsheet.

It's over 350 MILLION contacts.

More than enough to start building your Dream 100...

And then some.

STEP 04 CHOOSE YOUR GIFT.

Remember...

You are NOT trying to bankrupt yourself.

You don't need a $500 gift.

Something in that $30 - 50-ish range can be more than enough.

What matters is that it feels valuable enough that they WANT it...

And interesting enough that they notice it.

We gave you a few options above. Just pick something appropriate for your market.

Then...

LOCK IT.

You now have the curiosity piece.

STEP 05 WRITE THE LETTER.

Pleeease don't skip this bit.

The gift without the letter is just...

A nice gift.

But not particularly useful if your goal is to land a client.

Your letter needs to answer a few very simple questions.

Why them?

Why are you contacting them?

What do you believe you can help them with?

Why should they care?

And...

WHAT DO THEY NEED TO DO NEXT?

The letter doesn't need to be 14 pages long.

It doesn't need clever copywriting tricks.

It needs to make the recipient think...

"Okay. This person clearly chose ME for a reason."

And then give them a very simple next step.

The exact letters we send are in our community. (See below to get access)

STEP 06 SEND IT... THEN FOLLOW UP.

This isn't magic.

Some people will call immediately, some won't.

So follow up - call them, email, connect on LinkedIn.

BUT now you've got a pretty useful reason to start the conversation...

"Hey John... Dan here. Quick one — did that package I sent you arrive?"

That's a VERY different opening from...

"Hi John, we help businesses like yours leverage AI to increase revenue and streamline operations..."

:-)

You aren't another rando in their inbox anymore.

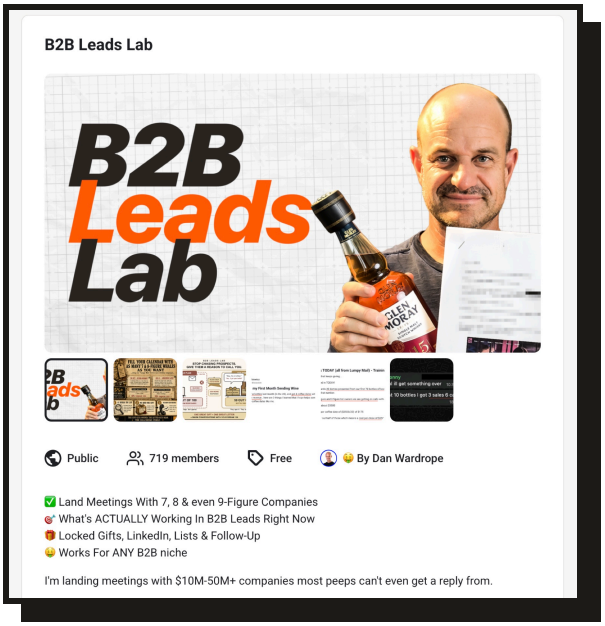

WANT ME TO HELP YOU DO IT?

I've made a bunch of mistakes doing this so I know what works and what kills deals.

I've created a completely FREE community and I'd be honoured to have you join us.

It's called...

B2B LEADS LAB

It's dedicated to ONE thing and one thing only:

GENERATING B2B LEADS ON DEMAND.

Inside, I'm documenting what we're doing ourselves.

The Locked Gift Strategy.

The letters we're testing.

The gifts we're testing.

How we're finding prospects.

How we're using AI to enrich the data.

How we're following up.

Your access to our 350M+ lead database.

What's working.

What's NOT working.

And the results we're getting as we keep sending these things out.

I'll also share what other members are doing so we can all learn from each other's experiments.

And where you can get support as you go on this journey.

This isn't some $5,000 course.

IT'S FREE.

And if you've read this far...

I'd love you to come join us.

But I DON'T want you joining just to consume more content.

You've probably got enough bloody content :-)

I want you to actually DO this.

So here's your little action plan...

1. JOIN B2B LEADS LAB SKOOL COMMUNITY FOR FREE.
2. CREATE YOUR FREE TOPA PLAN HERE & USE DANWARDROPELEADS TO GET UNLIMITED ACCESS TO OUR 350M+ B2B LEAD DATABASE.
3. BUILD YOUR DREAM 100.
4. PICK YOUR FIRST 10.
5. SEND SOMETHING THEY CAN'T IGNORE.

STOP FIGHTING FOR THEIR SCREEN. GET ON THEIR DESK.

...and I'll see you inside :-)

Dan

P.S. Remember...

The bottle isn't the strategy.

The gift isn't even the strategy.

The strategy is identifying the people you REALLY want to do business with...

And doing something very very different to get them to WANT TO SPEAK TO YOU.

Zig when others are zagging.

It works.
